

Data protection implications for the reproduction of photographs of people in publications and on websites

* Indicates racial or ethnic origin, religious beliefs, physical or mental health, political opinions, trade union membership, sexual life or anything relating to commission (alleged or otherwise) of any offence and related proceedings.

 If it is difficult to obtain consent consider blurring the photograph so the child cannot be identified.